

David Parente, Drum set

David Parente has spent his professional life as a performing musician traveling the world and sharing music. Music has been his passion from a very young age which inspired him to pursue a formal education. Parente holds a Bachelor Degree in Studio Music and Jazz Performance from the world- renowned jazz program at The University of Miami and a master degree in jazz performance from Thailand's Mahidol University. Parente has over twenty years of experience performing as a jazz drummer. In addition, he has continually maintained a private teaching studio as well as operated a professional recording studio. Having moved to Thailand in 2015, Parente is now currently the drummer at the Bamboo Bar at the Mandarin Oriental Hotel as well as performing at various other Bangkok venues. Parente has been a frequent guest performer with the Thailand Philharmonic Orchestra and has now joined on as a full-time faculty member at Mahidol University's Young Artist's Music Program.
